HIGH SCHOOL SELECT CAMPS

EXPOSURE CAMP

June 7, 2010

High School Seniors and Junior College Sophomores

The Brad Hill Summer Exposure Camps are designed for high school seniors and Junior College players that have graduated, who want to continue their playing careers at the next level. This camp allows players to get feedback from the K-State Coaching Staff and other college coaches on their baseball skills. Players will go through an extensive evaluation that is run much like a professional tryout. Campers will also get an inside look at the K-State baseball program.

Thirty percent of K-State's current roster is made up of former campers from events similar to this camp. College coaches from around the Midwest will be contacted about this event, and numerous coaches have attended our exposure camps in the past.

Infielders and Outfielders - $60

Registration: 10 a.m. at the entrance of Tointon Family Stadium
Camp Times: 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Pitchers and Catchers - $60

The Brad Hill Select Camps are designed to provide players who want to continue their playing careers at the next level with an opportunity to be evaluated in a professional scouting format and in live games by the KSU coaching staff, and other college coaches. The camp evaluations will identify each player's strengths and weaknesses that can also be sent to other colleges of interest. Campers will also have the chance see what current Wildcat players experience everyday in our program, while learning about the collegiate recruiting process. This camp will also include instruction in the areas of hitting, fielding, and pitching. Special sessions covering NCAA guidelines, the application process for admission to college, and strength and conditioning information from K-State Baseball Strength Coach Scott Bird.

Thirty percent of K-State's current roster is made up of former campers from events similar to this camp. College coaches from around the Midwest will be contacted about this event, and numerous coaches have attended our Select Camps in the past.
